

Ministry of Environment, Energy and Climate Change

Press Release issued April 25, 2017, for immediate publication

Key Stakeholders meet up to discuss and develop a National Water Policy.

The Ministry of Environment, Energy and Climate Change in collaboration with the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) and United Nations Operations Project Services (UNOPS) held a consultative workshop for the development of the National Water Policy on Monday the 24th of April, 2017 at the STC Conference Room at Latanier Road Victoria.

The aim of the workshop was to bring together all key stakeholders to provide input into the formulation of the National Water Policy and Integrated Water Resource Management (IWRM) Plan. Present for the workshop were participants from Government, the civil society and also the private Sector. Two consultants will be taking the lead in formulating the policy and they are Mr. Guy Morel and Mr. Daniel Malzbender.

The workshop started with the presentation of the Integrated Water Resource Management (IWRM) concept by UNOPS which addressed water management resources and how to address water issues.